

DRAYTON VALLEY CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN SATURDAY - MAY 28

The Lions' Club in conjunction with the Town of Drayton Valley have picked the above date for a general clean up of our town. In order to make this a success we ask all residents to have all garbage--large or small--placed at the rear of their lots, and from there it can be readily picked up with loaders and trucks.

THE DRAYTON VALLEY CUBS & SCOUTS AT THE SAME TIME WILL MAKE A BOTTLE DRIVE. ANY BOTTLES SHOULD ALSO BE READY FOR PICK UP ON THIS SAME DAY. (Any type of bottle accepted). YOUR COOPERATION IN THIS CLEAN-UP WILL HELP MAKE DRAYTON VALLEY A CLEAN TOWN OF WHICH WE CAN BE JUSTLY PROUD.

THE Editor's Viewpoint

With an unusually avid coverage by Edmonton's radio stations, with lurid blow-by-blow descriptions, a change in Drayton Valley's police force was effected in the wake of the tragic accident that marred last Sunday morning calm.

First reports indicated that Chief Constable A.L. Miles had been temporarily suspended. Following a council meeting on Monday afternoon he was re-instated and hard on the heels of that came the announcement of the resignation of Constables Adams and Chesterman, which is slated to become effective on May 31st.

Apparently both Constables Adams and Chesterman had been planning a change of occupation and the recent events merely brought matters to a head.

As citizens of Drayton Valley we will be sorry to lose both of these fine patrolmen and can hope that they will not carry out their proposed resignations.

However, if they do, perhaps Drayton Valley should consider hiring three more constables, instead of two so that we can have a full twenty-four hour patrol. We understand that Edson, no larger, no richer and certainly no livelier, has four men on her police force.

Certainly, the events did not justify the unusual coverage we got from the Edmonton radio stations.... It might also be interesting to know just who supplies them with all the details of the accident and the police--force events.

It also raises a question: How responsible would radio stations be if they gave out false or misleading information, because it is certain they do not always check their news source before broadcasting it over the air.

If the radio stations wish to give free time over the air we can supply them with all kinds of worthwhile events.

The idea of coming into the town from the east, but the idea was dropped temporarily, pending the finalizing of the purchase of the entire bus line system.

In the near future connections will be made with the eastern bus line, with a more direct route to Calgary and to eastern and south-eastern points on the other side of the Saskatchewan River. Bus service will also be provided to the Brazeau Dam site.

Canadian Coachways is a rapidly expanding bus system, wholly native, in that it is owned and operated within the province of Alberta. Purchases of other lines have increased the bus service from its original single bus which ran from Edmonton to Athabasca, until it now serves much of Alberta.

An oldtimer is a person who can recall when coffee breaks came with meals.

The picture on the right shows one of the award winners in the recent boxing card put on in Drayton Valley.

the University of Saskatchewan for one year. He is also a Chartered Accountant with a firm of Chartered Accountants in Regina for six years in their Regina Office, after which he was office manager for Canadian Motors in Regina for a period of five years.

Power of Prayer

By Duane Valenty. Taken from the March issue of Good Business.

"Prayer is the best investment you'll ever make, and don't you forget it!" A man, sick with despair and faced with the loss of his business to his creditors, listens to these words from his mother, takes her advice and prays.

Strange things begin to happen—small, heaving things that can hardly be called miracles. An employee offers his life savings to help out; other unexpected developments occur; his own spirits take an upward surge that gives him needed courage.

Despair turns to hope, and hope to success-making energies that build and build until Conrad Hilton is the most successful man in his field. Sincerely and humbly, he says: "I believe in prayer!"

A man with a billion-dollar-a-year business must be a busy man. Yet no day is so crowded that J. C. Penney fails to take time for prayer. He recommends that every businessman should do this at regular times, and make prayer so much a habit of thought that it becomes constant.

A teen-age boy once had the thrill of his life when, as sports writer for his school paper, he received an offer to write for a city newspaper. With his head in the clouds he said good-by to his friends and boarded the train only to find, on his arrival in the city, that the newspaper had gone out of business.

Ashamed to return to his home town, the boy took a low-paying job as package wrapper in a department store. And he prayed as he had learned to do at home. When he was especially discouraged with the tedious job, he prayed a little harder. The answer didn't come immediately, and he patiently learned to wrap frying pans, coffee pots, and the other odd-shaped items people insisted on buying.

Then one day it came: a letter offering a bigger and better job, one that was an open door leading to fame as a Broadway columnist. Ed Sullivan's prayers had been answered for more word eerily than he could have outlined.

"I know the power of prayer," he says, looking back. "I know it keeps you steady, unshaken, and able to take pain. I know it will guide you to your place—the place that will best help you grow."

The practice of prayer does not guarantee fame or wealth. But it does insure a mental harmony that helps one make the right decision at the right time, accomplish more work in less time, and find ways to make any job a better job.

"Instead of fighting my job and myself," says a bull-dog operator, "I am letting God operate and steer me in both big and small decisions."

He is speaking at a meeting of the "Pittsburgh Experiment," a nonsectarian group organized to "put religion into business," whose many members in that city meet regularly to describe how religion practiced daily as well as on Sundays, influences living and working. Office clerks, laborers in the steel mills, and executives tell how they are learning to make religion an important part of daily life.

A salesman admits that prayer and "right thinking" cause him to re-examine his sales methods and cancel out high-pressure salesmanship as not in perfect accord with Christian precepts. His change of method brings him increased sales.

A second salesman speaks of how prayer has improved his ethics, causing him to discontinue expensive "accout" "juggling."

"I get to my desk early, sit in silence, and ask God to help me with business problems that day," a clerk testifies, while a junior executive declares: "A man has to work at his religion, has to allocate a significant share of his time to it, has to put real effort in it."

At these annual meetings members discuss timidity in telling how prayer has helped them in their careers. There is the testimony of the lawyer who was not getting anywhere in his profession:

"My wife and I began to pray together and to read the Bible. We continually sought God's guidance and things began to happen. I received help from unexpected and previously unknown sources. Through such help as this, I found a fine place to practice my profession."

Henry J. Kaiser speaks of the "tremendous driving force" behind true faith. Wallace C. Speers, of the James McCutcheon Company of New York, believes that prayer must bring success because it is the greatest force in the world. He finds the constant practice of prayer a sure cure for resentment and fear.

Abraham Lincoln, a man of constant and devout prayer, put it this way: "I am not trying to find out whether God is on our side, but whether we're on God's side."

The words of prayer do not matter. When a news reporter criticized the wording of the prayer President Eisenhower wrote and delivered before his inaugural address in January, 1953, the President's brother, Edgar, told an interviewer:

"I don't believe God cared what words Dwight used. I'm sure, He heard what Dwight had to say to Him. You don't have to talk loud to pray. You can do it silently. But Dwight was saying to the world (and it was a modest gesture on his part): 'I don't think I am so big, so smart, that I can handle this great task alone. Therefore I am calling upon my Creator.'"

Words are not the vital part of true prayer that brings success in business, home relations, government, or sports. It is what is going on inside—what prayer is doing to the one who prays—that counts.

Dr. Hugh Maclure will deliver the sermon at the Drayton Valley United Church this Sunday, May 29th at 11:00 a.m. Dr. Maclure will speak on the subject, "A Christian and Misfortune." The worship service will be conducted by members of the Session. Among those leading in the worship service will be Mr. Harry Zolmer and Mr. Bruce Shearer. The United Church extends a welcome to all who wish to worship with them at this service.

The Rev. Albin Wright, of the United Church will attend the Alberta United Church Conference in Calgary, May 28th to 31st. In June the United Church will celebrate its 100th Anniversary. The organization was formed as the result of the union of three denominations in 1925.

President of the 1960 Conference is Dr. J. C. Eason, Dean of St. Stephens College, who has been in Drayton Valley on several occasions. Devotional speaker for the conference will be Dr.

FIRE LOSSES

Shown are the remains of a church recently consumed by an uncontrolled stubble fire.

Fire losses in the Province as a result of stubble fires consumed by a spark from a shaving burner threatened a large lumber yard and mill at Rocky Mountain House and resulted in loss of $92,000. Alberta Fire Commissioner.

A rural church valued at $10,000, was destroyed by a stubble blaze at Linaria. The noon fire became uncontrollable and raged a quarter mile in one hour, to consume the building.

The day previous, a grass fire burned the Grace Children's Home at Dimdale near Grande Prairie.

CANADIAN ADVERTISING

A spectacular animated sign to advertise Canada's travel attractions on New York's Times Square has been rented by the Canadian Government Travel Bureau for a period of thirteen weeks. The two-panel electronic sign, the only one of its kind in the world, measures 30 1/2 feet over-all and is located over a building at the corner of 44th Street and Broadway. The sign, which shows animated scenes of vacation activities and holiday events in each of Canada's ten provinces. The scenes to be shown include the Calgary Stampede, Highland Games in Nova Scotia, fishing, golf and other recreations, all of which are in full view of crowds who pass through Times Square every day. On hot summer days a special advertising message will be switched on the screen inviting New Yorkers to exchange their scorching sidewalks for Canada's cool lakes and mountains. The lower panel, measuring 17 1/2 x 31' is located just below and attached to the Epok animated sign. Conveyed of translucent plexiglas, it is brilliantly illuminated from within by grids of fluorescent tubing. In black copy it will carry the current slogan of the travel Bureau's advertising, "Canada... The Wonderful World At Your Doorstep".

Built in two panels the sign provides an unusual degree of flexibility. The upper panel, known as the Epok animated electronic screen display, features a unique photo-electric lighting system that switches animated scenes to

At that time Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Cartwright were introduced to the members of the church.

Miss Ballentine was a guest of the James Kays whom she was acquainted with during their time in Lebanon. Her tour will continue to Los Angeles, Chicago, Toronto, and then England. Then she will return to her mission.

Congratulations are being sent to Mr. and Mrs. Reder Richard of Black Diamond, who just recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Thirty seven members of the family, including all their sons and daughters, sat down to a turkey supper at the Home Oil Recreation Hall, Millerville, on the evening of April 16. Guests at this occasion were Rev. and Mrs. Waverley Gant of Black Diamond and Mr. and Mrs. McDonald of Calgary.

During the evening, open house was held when friends came to visit and enjoy musical numbers, vocal solos and dancing.

Mr. Ribaugh was born in Norway in 1883 and Mrs. Ribaugh was born near Paris, France in 1886. Both came to this country at an early age. They were married at Gleichen, Alberta, and are old timers of the Gleichen, Cluny Mills and Queenstown area.

Nine children were born of the union, eight of whom are still living. They are Mrs. Roy Cuntz (Sister) of Millerville; Geo. of Royalville; Mrs. Buster Styler (Peggy) of Drayton Valley; Henry of Black Diamond; Mrs. Pat Prossky (Lila) of Grande Prairie; Wilfred of Millerville; Arthur of Edmonton; and Maurice of Stony Plain. REPORT FROM PARLIAMENT HILL

By Hugh M. Horner, M.D., M.P., Jasper, Edson.

House of Commons

CANADIAN DEFENCE

Much speculation has gone on lately with regard to the defence of Canada. Surely the recent developments at the summit are more evidence, if it is needed, that if Canada is to remain a nation she must take her place in defence of Canada and North America. A revision to a position of neutrality would be a greater step than any other to a reduction of our sovereignty.

What about the controversy between the Arrow CF-105 and the Bomarc B. There have been very many erroneous reports concerning both of these.

The Arrow CF-105 would have cost up to $12 1/2 million each. Beyond that, the Arrow was not an efficient or good enough plane for the price. Its range was restricted to 300 miles and its fire power doubtful.

The Bomarc B is a missile which will be effective against air to ground missiles and bombers, and the two bases in Canada will cost $12 million or very little more than one Arrow. Bomarc B has recently had a very effective test. Bomarc A squadrons are in operation and effective. The difference between the A and B is primarily a change in fuel and an increase in range.

The Cut off of the Bomarc by the U.S. House of Representatives was a result of a similar controversy between factions in the U.S. However, the U.S. Government has asked the Senate to approve the program to the appropriation of the budget. After the recent successful tests of the Bomarc B at Elgin base, it is expected that this cut will be reversed.

It is important to view the whole Bomarc question in relation to the overall picture. For example the cost of Bomarc will be about one-half the cost of one of our new destroyer escorts. It amounts to 1% of our overall defence budget.

lecture by Mr. H. Weisloff, outlining the Ballistic Missile program. Mr. Weisloff also told of the various Radar monitoring stations scattered throughout North America. Of potential missile bases and so on.

Mr Stewart announced that a Radar Monitoring Course would be conducted in Edmonton sometime this fall. The date of the proposed course will be announced later.

Miss Neville spoke very interestingly on phases of Health Services. She told about the 8 truck caravan, fully equipped as a 200-bed hospital, assembled at a 200-bed hospital, assembled at any part of the country on 15 minutes notice.

After her talk to the class in the evening Miss Neville stayed over the next day to help organize the names at the hospital into a Disaster Team, ready for any emergency. It was stated that some ladies are interested in starting Home Nursing classes here.

First Aid classes are to start in the near future under the C.D.

organisation. Anyone interested in enrolling may contact Jerry Bonovan or Countess Miller.

Lions Clean-up Campaign

Drayton Valley Lions Club are sponsoring a "Clean-up" Campaign, on Saturday, May 28th.

This will be conducted in conjunction with the Town of Drayton Valley.

All residents are asked to have all garbage and rubbish placed in the rear of their lots where it will be picked up by loaders and trucks.

At the same time the Drayton Valley Club and Scouts will make a Bottle Drive. Any bottles should be ready for pickup on the same day. Any type of bottle will be accepted by the Club and Scouts.

It is hoped that the cooperation of all will be obtained to the end that this may be a very successful cleanup drive and will leave Drayton Valley a much neater and more tidy place when it is over.

The Caribbean Island of Jamaica owes its beautiful crops to Captain Hugh of HMS Bounty fame. The Pacific plant was imported as an interpretive starch food for slaves.

TRAFFIC BY LAWS

(d) Lines marked upon Town Highways to define traffic lanes may be either solid lines or broken lines: a broken line marked upon a highway may be crossed by vehicles subject to the other provisions of this section and section 408 hereof but where a traffic lane includes a solid line it shall be an offence for the operator of any class of vehicle to wholly or partially cross over that solid line in order to proceed except when turning in an intersection, or except when the operator can cross the solid line in safety without interfering with traffic moving on his left in the opposite traffic lane.

NOT TO OPERATE SO AS TO OBSTRUCT TRAFFIC

403. (a) No vehicle operator shall drive or stand a vehicle upon any highway in such a manner as to block, obstruct, impede or hinder traffic thereon; where the obstruction is unavoidable due to mechanical failure the operator will not be in breach of this section provided he promptly takes measures to clear the faulty vehicle from the highway.

(b) No person shall drive a vehicle so overloaded that the motive power of such vehicle is unable to move it at a reasonable rate of speed upon any highway.

MISSIONARIES IN DRAYTON VALLEY

Rev. William Hincle, and his wife, Phyllis and their four children, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Palmer in Drayton Valley. The Hincles' are United Church missionaries to Northern Rhodesia, Africa, and are in Canada on furlough. They expect to return to the foreign field sometime this summer. Mrs. Hincle is sister to Mrs. Palmer. Rev. Hincle will be in Drayton Valley till the end of this week, when he will leave to attend United Church missionary conferences in Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Mrs. Hincle will remain in Drayton Valley for a few days longer. She will show slides of Africa at the Home and School meeting on Monday evening.

Speaking to a United Church congregation recently Mr. Hincle said: "There are great changes taking place. The primary job for us there is promoting inter-racial understanding."

Rev. Hincle graduated from the University of Toronto in 1941 and spent five years in the Canadian army. After his return he entered Emmanuel College in Toronto and graduated and was ordained in 1949. Following that he spent a year in psychiatry and social work in Toronto. He spent two years in pastoral work in Toronto and went to Northern Rhodesia in 1954.

Mr. Hincle left Africa before the recent outbreaks of violence in Nyasaland and South Africa. He says there is a definite trend toward more liberal attitudes in many places.

In his mission field in the Kiwe district of Northern Rhodesia, he said, the United Church has 17 ministers. While there he preached to two congregations, one European, and one African. "We come together now in multi-racial services," he said, "with the occasional exchange of ministers." Mr. Hincle was minister to the European congregation, and assistant to the African minister who led the African congregation.

Rev. Hincle said that while in Africa he was very interested in young people of Rhodesia, of Christian mission work.

"In 1955 we had twice as many missionaries in the field as we have today," he said.

He anticipated many more changes soon in his mission, when the recommendations of a commission now meeting in London, England, are made public.

The 56-man commission is gathered to study the need for independence for the Federation of Rhodesia, which includes both Northern and Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

GRADUATION BANQUET

With the customary ceremonies Drayton Valley High School paid tribute to her 1960 graduates at a banquet held in Elks Community Hall the evening of Friday, May 27th. Five students graduated from Drayton Valley, they were Miss Anne Renaldi, Miss May Thomson, Miss Audrey Landers, Mr. Richard Schipper and Mr. Allen Smith. Lodgepole High School, with two graduates also took part in the ceremonies. From the Lodgepole School were Mr. Ronald Schmidt and Mr. Clarence Elliot.

Master of ceremonies for the evening Rupert Ibbotson. Following the traditional singing of "O Canada" grace was said by Fr. Scriven and, after an excellent meal provided by the ladies of the Anglican W.A., the Toast to the Queen was given by Mr. Ibbotson, followed by the Toast to the School Board, given by Richard Schipper who said: "Mr. Chairman, Honored Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen: I propose this toast to Mr. Frank Maddock and the Schoolboard whose time and efforts have given us the pleasant surroundings of a new school. They are the driving force which has made our educational facilities among the best in Canada. I know I speak for every student when I say, 'We appreciate the wonderful work you have done for us.'" The reply to the toast was made by Mr. Maddock who then formally presented to Mr. McMann as principal of the high school, the set of Encyclopedias which have recently been presented to all the high schools of Canada, by the Board of Directors of Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Toast to the Staff was given by Allen Smith with the reply given by Mrs. Jean Moore. The "Satellite" Pat Armstrong, Janice Williamson, Evelyn Kynoch, Sharon Woods and Sheryl McQuaig then sang, "Just a Closer Walk with Thee". The Class History, text of which is given in another section of this paper, was given by Richard Schipper. Mayor Adrian Meier then extended congratulations to the Graduates and greetings to all on behalf of the Town.

The Toast to the Lodgepole staff was given by Ronald Schmidt, with the reply given by Mr. Claude May, vice-principal of the Lodgepole School.

Toast to the parents was given by May Thomson, with Mrs. Grace Landers giving a very fitting reply to the toast. The Class Prophecy, which was also given in full in another place in this paper, was given by Audrey Landers.

Presentation of Scrolls and Pins was made to the Drayton Valley grad by Principal T. McMann, who gave a few well chosen words. The Lodgepole graduates were awarded their diplomas by Principal Robert Elliott of the Lodgepole school who also gave a short address, appropriate to the occasion.

Mr. Lorne Stevenson.

Lorne Stevenson, of Stevenson Hardware, the subject of this week's Personality review, was born in Nehalem, Manitoba, where his father was in the contracting business, road construction and so forth. Lorne attended Nehalem elementary and high schools. He joined the Army in 1942 and served four years, till he received his discharge in 1946. Following his army stint he went to Manitoba's largest city, Winnipeg, where he worked for a year with Winnipeg Paint and Glass, after which he was two years with Ashdown's Hardware in their Winnipeg store.

He then went west to Reblin, Manitoba where he managed a hardware store. In the fall of the year 1951 he came further west, to Edmonton, where he worked for Ashdown's Hardware Company until the spring of 1957, when Dave Chow had completed his building next to the restaurant and Stevenson came to Drayton Valley to manage the hardware store that was established in the new building. Early in 1960 Lorne purchased the business from Mr. Chow and established Stevenson Hardware, a quite successful business operation which is helping to serve the needs of this fast-growing town.

Mr. Stevenson is an enthusiastic curler during the winter season and a golfer during the time when Nature makes that form of recreation available. He is a vice-president of the Drayton Valley Lions Club, a member of the Board of Stewards of the United Church here and member of the newly formed St. John's Lodge in Drayton Valley.

He married the former Miss Bert Davidson of Cypress River, Manitoba; they have a young son who started to school this year. The Stevenson's are an integral part of this community.

SENIOR BASEBALL

By Ken Machan

Once again organized senior baseball returns to Drayton Valley with the admission of an as yet unnamed club into the Western Division of the Oilfield Baseball League. Service Clubs in town have been approached on the possibility of donating uniforms, and members of the team are working hard to get a ball diamond into good playing shape. Practices are held each Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and anyone interested in playing baseball is invited to come on. A schedule of league games follows. Wednesday games start at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday games at 2:30 p.m. At the completion of the schedule, the two top teams from each division will play off to decide the league championship. Teams in the Eastern Division include
